

New type of education

Fact sheet: NSS-FS4

This fact sheet provides information regarding the New type of education application.

General information

The New type of education application is to be completed and submitted to the Non-State Schools Accreditation Board (NSSAB) when a governing body of an existing non-state school is proposing to add a new type of education on a site. For example, a non-state school currently offering primary education proposes to offer secondary education on the site.

NSSAB is required to make a decision on an application within six (6) months of lodgement, where eligibility for Government funding is not sought, or within nine (9) months, where funding eligibility is sought.

Further information about the New type of education application is available on the NSSAB website. The application form and associated information booklet are also available to download from the NSSAB website.
